DEVELOPING CRITICAL AND LOGICAL REASONING

Reasoning is often the product of our ability to critically think about more than one choice or scenario. This practically led course will give teachers the skills required to embed critical reasoning into their lessons. Ask any child why they like something and they will tell you – but what if their friends reason is different – who is correct? Delegates will look at how lessons and groupwork can be structured to enable students to make reasoned responses and consensus decisions as preparation for the scenarios they will face in life.

COURSE CONTENT

- Cross curricular approaches – opportunities and pitfalls
